Govt lends community an ear at Imbizo Focus meet in Fezile Dabi

PARYS - MINISTER of Home Affairs, Malusi Gigaba, has confirmed to the Free State public, that late registration of birth will this year be a thing of the past.

Gigaba was speaking on Tuesday at the launch of the National Imbizo Focus week which was held at Fezile Dabi Stadium in Tumahole. "For the whole week, the government will be meeting with members of the community to listen to what they need and we are here to launch National Imbizo Focus week," Gigaba said, speaking to the media.

At the launch of the National Imbizo Focus week, Minister Gigaba was joined by scores of community members which included Mayor of Ngwathe, Joey Mochela, Mayor of Fezile Dabi, Moeketsi Moshodi and Premier Ace Magashule, who had to leave an all important ANC Provincial Working Committee Meeting, which was held in Parys. Meanwhile, the National Imbizo Focus week was well received by community members. Local resident, Nthabiseng Rantai from Tumahole, said: "At least we have leaders that come to us as the community. This gives us a great opportunity to engage with them directly instead of waiting for an appointment."

Without mincing his words, Premier Ace Magashule said that land grabbing will not take place in the Free State.

"Batho ba seng ba kena dibakeng tsena, le ba neng ba kene Viljoen-skroon Kroonstad, Steynsrus ha se bahahi ba moo, ke batho ba tshwang dibakeng tse ding ba tlisang merusu (people who were in those areas and those who were in Viljoen-skroon Kroonstad, Steynsrus, they are not residents there, they come from other areas and bring violence)," Magashule said.

However, he added that people will eventually get a piece of land which they will call their own legally.
